

Full-Time, Pulpit Minister Position Available

The Augusta Road church of Christ is seeking a full-time, pulpit minister. Interested men may submit their resume, letter of interest, references, and samples of sermons (video or audio) to contactarcoc@gmail.com.

Augusta Road is located in Greenville, South Carolina and has been worshipping in its current location since 1958. Augusta Road is comprised of 80 brethren, with Sunday morning worship attendance averaging 65 and Sunday/Wednesday evenings averaging 45 or so. There are 30+ youth and a balanced mixture of young and middle-aged families and older members. Augusta Road is financially stable. The congregation does not currently have an eldership, but is desirous of one. In the meantime, the faithful men of the congregation oversee the operations and spiritual well-being of the congregation using a committee structure with monthly business meetings. The brethren at Augusta Road expect the minister to not only preach and teach the truth, but also to visit the sick, the elderly and those in nursing homes. It is also expected that the minister will conduct individual and group Bible studies, assist with outreach efforts and be involved in the fellowship activities of the congregation. The minister is also expected to assist with some of the administrative tasks around the building.
